

Quick Facts about Young Voters in New York: The Presidential Election Year 2008

By Karlo Barrios Marcelo and Emily Hoban Kirby<sup>1</sup>
October 2008

This year's general election follows a primary season in which more than 6.5 million young people under the age of 30 participated. At least 12 percent of New York citizens under the age of 30 participated in the state's primaries.

In 2004, turnout among 18-to-29 year-olds in New York ranked 31st among all states and the District of Columbia in 2004, and was up nine percentage points over 2000. Whether the voter mobilization momentum of 2008 primary season—which nationally witnessed an eight percentage point increase in youth voter turnout from nine percent in 2000 to 17 percent in 2008—continues into the general election remains unpredictable.

This fact sheet reports the characteristics of young voters for the state of New York, including estimates of the number of young voters and voter turnout rates in 2004 and 2000 for various sub-groups of young people.

<sup>1</sup> We thank Mark Hugo Lopez for his 2006 fact sheet series on which this fact sheet is based. We also thank Peter Levine, Abby Kiesa and Kei Kawashima-Ginsberg for comments on previous drafts of this fact sheet.

<sup>2</sup> For a full discussion of the different ways voter turnout can be calculated please see "CIRCLE Working Paper 35: The Youth Voter 2004: With a Historical Look at Youth Voting Patterns 1972-2004." All voter turnout estimates presented in this fact sheet are calculated for U.S. citizens only, and according to the "Census Citizen Method" described in CIRCLE Working Paper 35.

<sup>3</sup> For state-by-state comparisons of voter turnout rates, see the CIRCLE fact sheet "Youth Voter Turnout in the States during the 2004 Presidential and the 2002 Midterm Elections."

<sup>4</sup> We have defined racial/ethnic groups in the CPS November Supplements by defining anyone with Hispanic background as Latino; individuals who cite a single non-Hispanic race or ethnicity are identified as non-Hispanic white, African American, Asian American or Native American.
