Quick Facts about Young Voters in New Mexico: The Midterm Election Year 2006

By Mark Hugo Lopez, Karlo Barrios Marcelo, and Jared Sagoff¹
Updated June 2007

The 2006 midterm election was the second major election in a row that saw an increase in the electoral participation of young people ages 18-29. Between 2002 and 2006, the percentage of eligible young people who voted increased by 3 percentage points to 25 percent, the single largest increase among all age groups nationally.² Similarly, while youth electoral participation improved between 2002 and 2006 nationally, in New Mexico, the youth voter turnout rate rose 7 percentage points from 18 percent in 2002 to 25 percent in 2006. Overall, New Mexico ranked 30th (tied with OK and PA) among all states and the District of Columbia in 2006, up from 44th in 2002.
