

Young Voter Poll
Non-College Youth and College Youth Sub Samples

Below are data distributions for the Young Voters Poll conducted in from June 22 to July 2, 2012. There were a total of 1695 respondents to the poll. African American, Hispanic and youth without college experience were oversampled and the results have been weighted to represent national demographics.

These toplines represent responses by non-college and college youth in the oversample.

In instances where there are less than 1695 responses, respondents either refused to answer the question, were not asked the question or a response was missing for some other reason. These missing / non-responses have not been included in the frequency counts or percentage distributions.

The participants were randomly assigned to one of the three questions below. All of the questions asked about their likelihood of voting in the November 2012 election.
